Job Description

UNT System Overview

Welcome to the University of North Texas System, or UNT World as we like to call ourselves. UNT World includes the University of North Texas in Denton, the University of North Texas at Dallas and the University of North Texas Health Science Center in Fort Worth. We are the only university system based exclusively in the robust Dallas-Fort Worth region and we are committed to transforming lives and creating economic opportunity through education. Over the past decade, combined UNTS enrollment has grown by more than 25 percent to nearly 44,000 students.

Department Summary

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 27 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly, and Journal of Political Science Education, and is the current home of Religion and Politics. The department also houses the Castleberry Peace Institute, the Peace Studies Program, and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site is: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

UNT is a Tier One research institution located in the City of Denton within the metropolitan area of Dallas-Fort Worth, a dynamic, multi-cultural region of more than seven million people. The University of North Texas serves a diverse population exceeding 39,000 students, of which forty-one percent are first generation college students. With faculty from some 70 countries, we seek to recruit and retain a diverse workforce to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer students richly varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. The University of North Texas is committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.
