Job Description

This is a 9-month, tenure-track position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level. The faculty member will be responsible for continuously publishing in quality peer-reviewed journals while developing and delivering quality course content in economics at the undergraduate and MBA levels both on campus and online. Preference will be given to candidates with research and teaching interests in macroeconomics but applications from other disciplines will be considered. Continuous professional involvement, department, college and university service are also expected.

Faculty in the department regularly publish in high-quality peer-reviewed journals, obtain external grant funding, and provide discipline-related service to the university and community. The department expects its faculty to be active researchers and engaged, high-quality educators.
