AIU invites applicants for a full-time Faculty (Assistant, Associate) appointment to teach communications courses within our university-wide general education program as well as for the School of Business. Though the area of specialization is open, the ideal candidate will have experience and expertise in digital and social media platforms. The successful candidate will demonstrate active scholarship in his or her specialization(s). In addition to teaching core undergraduate courses (Mass Communications, Media Studies, Intercultural Communications) the candidate will be prepared to develop upper-division courses as needed. The candidate should have experience with various instructional modalities (classroom, hybrid, and online learning) and demonstrated familiarity with relevant instructional technology and learning management systems to effectively facilitate learning and communication with students. The candidate will also possess the ability to work effectively with individuals from diverse communities and cultures. Experience working with English language learners is highly desirable. The position carries the expectation for research and school and University service in addition to teaching responsibilities.

Candidates should demonstrate excellence in teaching related to their specific expertise and be able to work within a small program, emphasizing personal attention to our students. We expect leadership in undergraduate teaching and mentoring, curriculum development, and program assessment. We welcome candidates who will broaden our curriculum and diversify our campus community in regard to race, gender, and ethnicity.

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. degree in Communications or related field
- Effective communication skills in English
- University teaching experience
- Commitment to excellence in teaching and scholarship
- Experience with various instructional modalities (classroom, hybrid, and online learning) and demonstrated familiarity with relevant instructional technology and learning management systems
- Commitment and experience working effectively within a diverse university community
- Ability and willingness to work collaboratively with faculty from a variety of disciplines
- Experience working with English language learners a plus
- Experience with program and course outcomes assessment highly desirable

Experience:

- University Teaching: 5 years (Required)

Education:

- Doctorate (Required)
