expected to contribute to admissions, assessment, and any curriculum-related matters.

The successful candidate will make a full contribution to the academic life of the University through research, teaching, and academic service. There is considerable flexibility in the organization of duties and faculty workload planning is undertaken as part of ongoing staff review with the Department Chair in order to ensure appropriate time and opportunity to undertake all duties as well as for professional development. The broad balance of duties for faculty members includes teaching and supervision (40%), research (40%), and service (20%).

Applicants should upload a CV and a cover letter of no more than 750 words. They should also upload a research plan and a teaching philosophy plan. Please also include the names of three academic referees, and indicate whether they may be contacted during the application process or only after an offer has been made. Shortlisted candidates will be interviewed remotely. In cases requiring another interview, candidates may be asked to submit a more detailed research proposal and/or give a short presentation as part of the interview process. All materials should be uploaded via the UAEU Job Portal at: <https://jobs.uaeu.ac.ae/index.jsp>.

Informal enquiries about the Department or the post may be directed to Dr. Suaad AlOraimi, Chair of the Department of Government and Society, at: s.aloraimi@uaeu.ac.ae. Questions about the application procedure or general enquiries may be directed to recruitment@uaeu.ac.ae.

The University offers a competitive compensation package for faculty with a starting annual salary commensurate with experience.. There is the opportunity for promotion in post through the annual review and promotion system.
