Job Description

DISCOVERY & USER EXPERIENCE LIBRARIAN

Indiana University Libraries seeks a forward-thinking and collaborative Discovery & User Experience Librarian to join its Discovery and User Experience department (DUX) to lead efforts to ensure the effective functioning of Indiana University's collections discovery interfaces through a focus on user experience.

The work of this position primarily serves the Bloomington campus, but activities and responsibilities also benefit IU Libraries statewide. Working in a collaborative team environment, the position will participate in library-wide efforts to optimize the operation of a suite of discovery and retrieval systems designed to help expose the IU Libraries' investment in collections and leveraging relevant technologies to provide user-centric services for information access and discovery.
