Job Description

The Department of Psychological Sciences at Auburn University invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track position as an Assistant Clinical Professor within the Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) master's program beginning Fall semester, 2025.

The ABA Program offers students an on-campus, non-thesis Master of Science degree, an ABAI Verified Course Sequence, and all required hours of supervised experience for BACB certification eligibility. The ABA program has a 100% 7-year pass rate on the BACB certification exam and currently offers student training across a variety of diverse settings including an on-campus early intervention autism clinic, the public school system, the foster care system, and a juvenile detention facility.

Key responsibilities include group and individual supervision of students' training hours, graduate and undergraduate instruction, and oversight of master's student capstone projects.

Auburn University is one of the nation's premier public land-grant institutions and is recognized as a "Very High Research Activity (R1) institution" under the Carnegie Classification system. Auburn maintains high levels of research activity and high standards for teaching excellence, offering Bachelor's, Master's, Educational Specialist, and Doctoral degrees in agriculture and engineering, the professions, and the arts and sciences. Its 2024 enrollment of 34,145 students includes 25,204 undergraduates and 8,941 graduate and professional students. Organized into twelve academic colleges and schools, Auburn's 1,443 faculty members offer more than 200 educational programs. The University is nationally recognized for its commitment to academic excellence, its positive work environment, its student engagement, and its beautiful campus.

Auburn residents enjoy a thriving and increasingly diverse community, recognized as one of the "best small towns in America," with moderate climate and easy access to major cities or to beach and mountain recreational facilities. Situated along the rapidly developing I-85 corridor between Atlanta, Georgia, and Montgomery, Alabama, the combined Auburn-Opelika- Columbus area has a population of over 500,000, with excellent public schools and regional medical centers.
