Job Description

The College of Architecture, Art and Design (CAAD) at American University of Sharjah (AUS) invites applications for a visiting or regular faculty appointment—at the assistant or associate level—to the Master of Urban Planning (MUP) program. This position provides an opportunity to teach and conduct research in a unique urban context and to make a difference in the practice of urban planning. MUP graduates occupy professional and governmental leadership positions across the region. As a result of AUS' recent push to enhance research, there is now significant support for research activities. The position comes with a competitive salary and an exceptional benefits package inclusive of free housing and utilities, generous retirement contributions, funding for annual return airfare, school tuition for dependents and health insurance.

Applicants will have demonstrated excellence in teaching, scholarship and service or the potential for such excellence. Applicants must possess expertise—developed through academic work and/or professional practice—in some combination of environmental planning, transportation planning and planning history. We are also open to candidates with research and teaching interests in other areas of urban planning. The successful candidate will teach a combination of required core courses and elective offerings at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Preference will be given to applicants with academic experience in the North American model of higher education.

A PhD in urban planning or a related field is required. The successful candidate is expected to assume duties in August 2025.

Interested applicants should submit the following: 1) a letter of application that describes your fit with this position description and provides the names and contact information of three referees; 2) a curriculum vitae; and 3) a digital portfolio of scholarly/professional/teaching activities (for example research manuscripts, course syllabus, and course ratings). All these documents are to be submitted as one PDF file.

Submit applications in confidence by visiting <https://tinyurl.com/CAAD-MUP-25> (to apply, you must have a Google account).

Applications will be reviewed beginning December 1, 2024, and will continue to be accepted and reviewed until the position is filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

CAAD offers undergraduate programs leading to degrees in architecture, interior design, visual communication, multimedia design and design management, along with the Master of Urban Planning degree. The undergraduate curriculum is based on the North American model with liberal arts and sciences integrated with a professional education. All courses are taught in English.
