Position description

The Berkeley School of Education (BSE) at the University of California, Berkeley seeks a Lecturer to teach in the School Psychology Program.

Teaching Responsibilities: We are seeking outstanding lecturers who can teach courses in the school's School Psychology Ph.D. program. The program is accredited by the American Psychological Association and approved by the National Association of School Psychologists.

General Duties: In addition to teaching and clinical supervision responsibilities, duties include holding office hours, assigning grades, advising students and preparing course materials.

The Berkeley School of Education is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching. Qualified women and members of underrepresented minority groups are strongly encouraged to apply. UC Berkeley has an excellent benefits package as well as a number of policies and programs to support employees as they balance work and family.

This is a pool recruitment that may be used to fill openings for multiple terms, with immediate need in the spring 2025 semester.
